CANARY SERVICE NETWORK AND WOMEN SUPPORT CENTERS FOR VICTIMS OF GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE

GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE is a physical, psychological or sexual aggression that includes threats, coercion and deprivation of liberty in PUBLIC AS WELL AS IN PRIVATE, FOR BEING A WOMAN

In Spain one out of every ten women above 18 has been abused... This represents a study of 1.865.000 women, 93% suffer aggressions from their partners or ex-partners.

("Violence against Women" report. Instituto de la Mujer. March 2005).

GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE APPEARS IN MULTIPLE WAYS:

- Physical, psychological (threats, humiliation) and any kind of sexual abuse.
- Sexual harassment at work or school.
- Trafficking or using women for sexual exploitation.
- Female genital mutilation.
- Violence against a woman's sexual and reproductive rights.
- Financial mistreatment.
- Any other way that hurts or could possibly hurt a woman's dignity, integrity or liberty.

WHAT CAN YOU DO IF YOU HAVE SUFFERED AN AGGRESSION OR IF YOU ARE IN DANGER OF SUFFERING ONE

CALL 112, we have a woman's care service that puts the Emergency Response Program for assaulted women (D.E.M.A.) of your island in operation, if necessary.

If you have physical or psychological injuries, or if you think you might have them, CONTACT HEALTH SERVICES AND ASK FOR A COPY OF THE MEDICAL REPORT OF INJURIES. If you have suffered a sexual aggression, you should not wash or change your clothes before a medical examination and registering a police report.

MAKE THE CORRESPONDING REPORT at the nearest police station, Guardia Civil headquarters or police court. Provide them with the medical report. The formal complaint should be as detailed as possible and should mention aggressions suffered previously as well. Declare everything you consider important. Inform them about witnesses. Do not hide or leave out details, they could be essential. Read the text before signing. Do not forget to ask for a copy.

If you are in a really dangerous situation ASK FOR A RESTRAINING ORDER in the formal report

IF YOU FEAR FOR YOUR OWN SAFETY, LEAVE YOUR HOME WITHOUT FEAR OF LOSING YOUR RIGHTS. DO NOT FORGET TO TAKE THE FOLLOWING WITH YOU:

- Your personal data (Identity card or passport, family book, health care cards...).
- Bank account information.
- Pay slip of the person living with you or copy of a tax-return (IRPF).
- Rent contract or title/deed of home.
- Personal medications and belongings.
